KV-SS1100 NETWORK HUB

The KV-SS1100 is a standalone device that integrates with your Panasonic scanner to create a scalable network solution for small workgroups or centralized production environments. Whatever your document workflow or automation requirements, the KV-SS1100 provides the wired or wireless network connection you need to keep your documents flowing.

The KV-SS1100 does away with desktop PCs, manual scanning and data entry. With the KV-SS1100, files are sorted, edited, auto-scanned and filed to various folders based on customizable presets — such as billing, human resources, accounts payable or claim adjustments. Ideal for healthcare, insurance, banking, mortgage companies and more, the KV-SS1100 gives you the freedom to choose the scanner that fits your workflow, automation and productivity needs.
